Racial grammar—a deep level of race cognition which like grammar operates collectively and interpolates subjects in an almost invisible way—that shapes the views, emotions, and even actions of all subjects in the racial polity.

Bonilla Silva has written several books. Some recent titles include:
• Racism without Racists
• White Logic, White Methods: Race, Epistemology, and the Social Sciences
• White Out

Wednesday, February 24, 2010
Reception: 6-7PM
Speaker: 7-9 PM
Location: Middlebush Auditorium